

Your first step toward clarity and trauma-responsive practice

Pedagogy of Humanity, LLC

FREE 15-Minute Consult

What it is

A complimentary 15-minute conversation to slow down, feel heard, and see how the Pedagogy of Humanity could support you, your school, or your family.

Who it's for

Schools, universities, or organizations curious about trauma-responsive education.

Caregivers, foster parents, and grandfamilies navigating special education or behavioral challenges.

How it works

You share your top challenge or concern.

I'll listen, ask clarifying questions, and outline what support could look like.

Together, we decide if next steps make sense — whether through institutional consulting or family advocacy services.

What you'll leave with

Clarity about your situation and options.

A better understanding of how trauma-responsive practice could help.

A sense of whether working together feels like the right fit.

Speak with
Brittany L. Stratton,
Educational
Traumatologist
—
Consultant
Advocate
Researcher

How to Begin

Schedule your free 15-minute consult today.
No obligation — just a conversation.